Lecture Titles
1) Reasons to study health and disease in the past
2) How to study Disease in the past
3) Disease in human ancestors
4) Disease in early humans and hunter-gatherers
5) Human parasites and evolution
6) Disease in early civilizations
7) Disease and migration
8) Social consequences of disease
9) Early attempts to treat disease
10) Disease, genes and modern civilization
11) The origins of human infectious disease
12) The future evolution of disease

Practical
Evidence for disease in human skeletal remains

Seminars
1) Critical assessment of some key palaeopathology articles
2) The osteological paradox
3) How to design a study to test a hypothesis regarding disease in the past